Gill Callister FIPAA

IPAA Victoria President, and Secretary, Department of Education and Training, Victoria

Public Sector Week is both a celebration of the work we do in the public sector and an opportunity to examine and learn more about our unique role in society.

In a world of rapid population growth and new channels of information and engagement, there has never been a greater need for a supportive, connected and community-minded public sector.

Achieving this requires engaging with big ideas, building pride and confidence in our workforce, capitalising on the diversity of people who work in our sector and developing the skills and capabilities that we know will be needed in the future. Public Sector Week is a unique opportunity to come together for this very purpose.

Dynamic debates, thought provoking presentations, workshops and forums are just some of the opportunities on offer, with over twenty five events to drive fresh thinking, encourage innovation and build stronger professional networks.

I want to thank our sponsors, supporters and members for their contribution to this great program and for their involvement more generally with IPAA Victoria. I also want to acknowledge the high calibre of this year's speakers and panellists.

On behalf of the Board, I am honoured to have you join us to grow Victoria's public sector and celebrate its achievements.
